CONFIDENTIALITY OF INFORMATION

In the course of performing their duties, individual(s) authorized by issuer may have access to or gain knowledge of confidential information concerning the Company, its customers/clients, shareholders and other employees. "Confidential information" is defined as information to which the public does not have general access. This policy governs the use or further disclosure of such information.

With respect to confidential information concerning the Company, its employees, and/or its customers/clients, shareholders, and stock positions, such information should be safeguarded. An appropriate officer or director will grant the necessary access if an authorized individual(s) needs such information to perform his or her duties. No other access is permitted. Any release, duplication, distribution, transmittal, disclosure, or discussion ("release") of such information that is not required by law or by the duties of the authorized individual(s) involved is strictly prohibited.

Unauthorized access to, and unauthorized release of, confidential information will violate this policy and may result in appropriate disciplinary action against the authorized individual(s) involved, up to and potentially including termination of services to the company & involvement of law enforcement, depending upon the severity intent, and/or repeat nature of the offense.
